

THE BEACH BULLETIN DECEMBER 2015

DANIEL'S STORY

Daniel spoke little English when we first met him a few months back. His family returned each week, and each week Daniel was loved and encouraged by his Small Group Leaders- even when communication was tough. Last week, as we worked on reciting the key verse together, Daniel eagerly raised his hand to say the verse on his own. He said it in English, with a big grin on his face!

Your work is not in vain.
Because of servants like you,

Merry Christmas from all of us at The Beach!

Tomoka's children, no matter what their background may be, are hearing and learning the truth of Jesus. Thank you for investing in the next generation! Have a blessed and joyous Christmas season.

Be steadfast, immovable, abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your work is not in vain.
-1 Corinthians 15:58

Kids who start having household chores at age 3 or 4 are more likely to be emotionally, professionally, and academically successful. Kids who do chores are also more responsive to others' needs.

-Wall Street Journal report

Kids with ADHD learn better when they're able to squirm, according to a study out of the University of Central Florida.

The movements often associated with ADHD are vital to how they remember information and work out complex cognitive tasks.

- Children's Ministry Magazine

Elementary small group leaders, kids have 312 weeks from the time they enter Kindergarten to the time they enter middle school. What you do each week matters.
